Jenny,

I make one suggestion essentially three times in the attached version of the recent Pesticides Issue Paper. I think each of the instances I make the suggestion are potential places where additional information could be added.

In short, I think the issue paper could be strengthened by a summary or more description of EPA's environmental or human health concern.

Hi Everyone (cc: to larger CZARA tech team, FYI),

Thanks everyone for a very helpful call on Monday. I've updated the OR CZARA pesticides (now 5 pages) issue paper based on our discussion and a follow-up discussion with the larger CZARA tech team.

I'm looking for your help in the description, especially to make sure I'm accurately describing the status of the litigation and how the 2013 NRC report will be used. And most importantly, I'm looking for your thoughts on the pros and cons of the options and recommended action to management. I'd appreciate if you could let me know by Monday, August 11, COB. Please feel free to call me if you want to discuss more. Also, as we discussed, we're talking with folks from OEA here tomorrow, so I'll have more information on Triangle Lake. I'm also getting some information from NOAA next week on questions on the litigation. If there's something very relevant, I'll shoot an email to the group.

Thanks,
Jenny Wu
